

Dr. Jeff Cetola is the Civilian Deputy and Technical Director for the Air Force Weather Requirements Division at Joint Base Langley-Eustis where he has served in that capacity since 2016. Prior to that, he was a Senior Engineer with Atmospheric and Environmental Research, Inc. Jeff served 20 years in the US Air Force as a Weather Officer with multiple assignments in the US and overseas. Upon retirement, he worked for the USAF where he directed research efforts for the AF Weather Agency in Omaha, Nebraska. Dr. Cetola holds a Bachelor of Science degree in Electrical Engineering from Clemson University, a Master of Science in Climatology from Florida State University, and a PhD in Atmospheric Sciences from North Carolina State University.