

Jenny Valentine – After spending three excruciating years in contracting Jenny became the Program Manager for MARK IV-B in 2013. Tirelessly promoting her program, communicating the importance of weather to the uninformed, and providing training opportunities to forecasters is what she does for fun.